[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 13

Congressional

WASHINGTON March 11—In the Senate Revels presented a communication from colored members of the Georgia Legislature protesting against the adoption of Bingham's amendment to the Georgia bill which they say would deliver the trial of colored citizens bound hand and foot to the hands of their enemies

Drake introduced a bill providing for the nomination of naval appointees by Congress

A joint resolution for the appointment of a joint committee to consider all matters relating to the Indian tribes was discussed by Harlan and Stewart Thurman moved indefinite postponement which was defeated by the casting vote of the Vice President and then it went over to make way for the funding bill

Sherman offered an amendment extending the time for the payment of four and a half per cent bonds from thirty to forty years adopted Morton offered an amendment for the retirement of legal tenders by funding them into bonds without putting an equal amount in bank notes After a long discussion of the various amendments offered, all were rejected The tenth section was amended so as to allow the banks to organize with fifty instead of a hundred thousand dollars capital The commission for the sale of bonds was fixed at half of one per cent The bill was then reported to the Senate and passed by 33 to 10 Adjourned till Monday

In the House after some miscellaneous business, Schenck desired the House to go into Committee of the Whole on the tariff Dawes deficiency bill was laid aside and the House took up the tariff McCarthy spoke in favor of the tariff, but desired a reduction of duties on tea coffee and sugar Much argument was devoted to the salt question in favor of the protection of home articles The tariff bill was laid aside and the committee proceeded to consider the deficiency bill It appropriates in the aggregate $2 477,700 Among its items are $100 000 for the Branch Mint at San Francisco, and $200 000 for public printing and binding

Beck a member of the Committee on Appropriations addressed the House on the general subject of expenditures of the Government He asserted that it was a mistaken idea that the expenses of the present year were less than those of last year He declared his belief that instead of being $14,000,000 as has been asserted $60,000,000 was nearer the correct figure The discussion was continued by Cox, Voorhees and Marshall who criticised Dawes' recent speeches in the House and in the New Hampshire canvass, accusing him of inconsistency. Dawes' defended himself from the accusations and the administration from charges of extravagance The House adjourned till to morrow, when the session will be for debate only

Consideration of the San Domingo Treaty.

The Committee on Foreign Relations held a special meeting to day to consider the San Domingo treaty Gen Babcock explained its provisions and the circumstances attending its negotiations No conclusion was reached

The Gold Market.

NEW YORK March 11—Wall street shows a sharp reaction from the effect of the bear speculation in gold The sentiment is quite common that the fluctuations were produced by artificial expedients and that a reaction having set in, buyers are likely to revert to the medium from which they first started Short interest was re-established during the fall in gold As the shorts seem undetermined whether the reaction is permanent or only temporary, they show considerable vacillation in their operations, covering when prices rise and again selling when there is any decline

Jerry Murphy and Dennis Tuohy, prize-fighters of New Jersey, fought yesterday in a room in Hudson City, for two hundred dollars and the championship of the State. Tuohy was fearfully punished

Canadian Parliament—Water Boundaries Question Referred

OTTAWA, March 11—The Under secretary of Foreign Affairs informed the House that the difficulty between the United States and Great Britain in regard to water boundaries of the respective territories in North America had been referred to arbitrators

OUR BUTTER MARKET Last year at this time California and Eastern butter was being imported at a lively rate, and money was going out of the State steadily for both butter and cheese To call attention to this state of things was one of the first efforts of this paper Previous to its being issued however some of our farmers had begun to turn their labors in the direction of the dairy One such farmer (J M Harrison, of Marion county) came to town last week to effect the sale of one ton of packed butter and finding the market abundantly supplied and none of our butter merchants so ready this spring to ship butter out of the State as they were last spring to ship butter in he concluded to ship to British Columbia on his own account Thus we have the tables turned in our favor in one year and middle men who were last year praying at the back of entry rise among farmers in not furnishing their own market with butter are now sitting by their stoves telling customers they would not give 15 cents per pound for butter to ship Many of this class who would like to be dignified with the name of merchants, would be greatly benefited by being struck with a spirit of enterprise themselves, or society would perhaps be more benefited by their being changed from exceedingly small merchants to moderate-sized butter makers It is to be hoped that those of our farmers who have started in the dairying branch of their calling will not be discouraged at the present low prices of butter The favorable season we have had since last September lly furnishing such good grazing, has had much to do in bringing about the great change that has taken place with regard to the price of butter within the year but we cannot reasonably expect to always have such seasons as the last still if we had it is much better that we should export at moderate prices, than to import at all Patience and perseverance Farmer

CONFIDENTIAL WHISKY DRINKING A resident of Gold Hill visits Ia remarkable family in that neighborhood and relates his funny experience in the No s

The family consists of the husband his wife and two grown sons The old lady was the only one of the family who did n't take a little of the O Be joyful Setting by the fire a few minutes the old man tipped a wink and the visitor followed him out Stepping by a shed he pulled a tarlor cocktail bottle remarking I have to keep the stuff for the boys might get to drinking and the old woman would raise the H They take a drink and turn it to the front So Tom the oldest son asked the visitor to see his horse and taking him behind the barn pulled out a flask remarking I have to keep this hid for the old man will get it if not then the old has to pay and they take a drink and return I See Bill slipped in the visitor's toe and walked off the visitor fell wing As they rounded the corner Bill drew out a good sized bottle remarking You know the old man and I is will get drunk and I have to hide this Our friend include I that he could not steal it I drunk confidentially against the wh le family and started back to Gold Hill

Report from Admiral Poore

WASHINGTON March 12—Dispatches have been received by the Navy Department from Rear Admiral Poore commander of the North Atlantic Fleet dated Cape Haytien, Feb 16th stating that Admiral Poore called upon the Provisional President and after the usual interchange of civilities acquainted him with the objects of his visit The President summoned his Cabinet and the Admiral explained the instructions he had received from his government that negotiations were pending between the United States and San Domingo that while they were pending they had determined with their whole power to prevent any interference on the part of Hayti or any government with that of Dominicans and if any attacks were made on Dominicans during negotiations under the Haytien or any other flag it would be considered an act of hostility to the United States flag and would provoke hostilities In return the present Secretary of the State expressed the hope that friendly relations now existing between Hayti and United States would not be interrupted, but they were aware of their weakness and knew their rights and would maintain them to the best of their ability They must be allowed to be judges of their own policy Admiral Poore afterwards went into details, unofficially Authorities were displeased and considered it a menace on the part of the United States government.

The U S steamers Severn and Dictator arrived at Port au Prince on the 9th of February The day before the arrival of the Severn at Port au Prince rumors were in circulation that a collision had occurred at Cape Haytien between the Nantucket and the Haytien man-of-war Terry, late Paquot in consequence of protection given by the former to the Am Consul It was also reported by the two pilots who brought in the Severn and Dictator, but with discrepancy in the reports An examination by the Admiral proved the rumor to be without foundation.

The Funding Bill

WASHINGTON, March 13—The funding bill, as it passed the Senate provides for the issue of $400 000,000 of coupons or 10-40 year bonds of five per cent coin interest, for disposal in the United States or elsewhere, at not less than par value for coin or in exchange for 5 20 bonds, equal to the aggregate par value Also for 400, 000 000 of 15-40 year bonds at 4½ per cent coin interest for similar disposal at not less than par value for coin or redemption of bonds bearing a higher rate of interest. Also for the same $400, 000,000, of 30-40 year bonds at 4 per cent coin interest for similar disposal at not less than par value for coin or redemption of outstanding bonds

Further issue of the last named bonds is authorized, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, provided the aggregate debt of the United States is not thereby increased All these bonds are to be entirely exempt from taxation The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to appoint agents in the United States or Europe for the negotiation of the bonds A sum not exceeding one-half of one per cent is appropriated to pay the expense of preparing, issuing and disposing of the same $150,000,000 of the proceeds of duties on imported goods is applied to the payment of interest and reduction of the principal of the public debt Bonds now held as sinking fund, also those hereafter purchased, shall be cancelled or destroyed after the 1st of October next Registered bonds of any denomination not less than $1 000 issued under the provisions of this act shall be deposited with the Treasurer as security for the national banks circulation These banks which shall not comply with the provision within a year from the passage of the act shall be forfeited in an amount of circulating notes received by any bank not to exceed 80 per cent of the par value of the bonds deposited The last section authorizes banks to be organized and do business on depositing $50,000 in United States notes with the controller of the currency, in exchange for 4 per cent bonds and shall receive circulating notes the same as other banks without respect to limitation or aggregate of circulation of national currency provided however that if circulating notes are issued under this section an equal amount of greenbacks shall be cancelled and destroyed

Bank Statement—Opinions of the Funding Bill.

NEW YORK March 12—The Bank statement is unfavorable showing heavy decrease of specie deposits and legal tenders and contraction of loans The reserve has increased three and a half millions The leading subject of discussion has been the funding bill which is generally unpopular It is confidently expected that it will be materially modified if not defeated in the House

The prevailing opinion favors both length of time and rate of interest, viz 4 per cent bonds the principal and interest payable at home No commission now will be paid for negotiating such loan It is said that one more cotton crop would make funding comparatively easy With the present it is claimed it will ruin legitimate trade or delay specie payment The disposition however is await developments in the House Private dispatches say several banks are opposed to the bill and forbid out of compliment to the Committee under the belief that it would fail in the House This is said to be true of Conkling White and Cameron is alleged to have dodged the vote The contracting classes encounters much hostility from the Western members

One of the Missing Steamers All Right.

NEW YORK March 2—The steamer Schmidt reports that she left Bremen January 22nd and proceeded satisfactorily until the 27th when a perfect hurricane commenced The wind veered and shifted to all points of the compass the sea swelling into gigantic rollers seldom met with any where but in the north Atlantic Against these gales the vessel made but little headway and the situation was rendered still more dangerous by the breaking of the piston rod and a general loosening of the machinery by high strokes and unavailing revolutions when the propeller was out of water The disaster occurred Feb 8th and the gale continuing it rendered the task of repairing difficult The work of repair lasted two weeks days the steamer lying unable to make headway All went well with the passengers so far as food general comfort and health were concerned One death an infant and two births occurred during the voyage

The Democratic Record Against the Interests of Oregon

From the Albany Democrat

There are ten Democrats occupying seats in the Senate and the object that gentlemen in the interests of the Republican party have in attempting to make it appear by fabricated statements that seven of those were opposed to the Oregon grant is obvious The well known amiability of the OREGONIAN enables us to hope that that paper will trouble itself just once more to rewrite the subject

The OREGONIAN will trouble itself once more with this subject but the Democrat by the time it gets through with this article will not be at all thankful to the OREGONIAN for its pains This is a sore subject for the Democratic press, and the effort those journals are making to break the force of the fact that the members of their party in the Senate did unitedly oppose the Oregon grant and that the policy of the Democratic party is one of determined opposition to Government aid for internal improvements shows that they feel how damaging such a fact and such a policy are to them in Oregon

We shall prove to the Democrat by the official paper of Congress that every Democratic Senator who was present when the bill was before the Senate spoke and voted against it There were seven who thus went on the record, and the fact that the other three did not was owing to their absence on that occasion from the Senate Chamber On the other hand, every Republican Senator present voted for the bill, and several made powerful speeches in favor of it

The Congressional Globe of February 20 contains the debate in the Senate on this bill The record shows that Williams called it up, and Thurman, a Democratic Senator from Ohio, took the floor and made an energetic speech against it He was followed by Stewart of Nevada, who spoke eloquently and ably on the other side Stewart was frequently interrupted by the Democratic Senators, especially by Thurman and Casserly, who opposed objections at all points That Casserly, a California Senator, whose State has been the recipient of munificent grants from the Government, should be illiberal and mean enough to deny a favor of a similar kind to Oregon, shows how little our State would have to expect from the Democratic party if that party were in power The Government had not only made grants of land almost without number to his State, but it had also built with its own money one thousand miles of road and given it to Californians, but not even so much as a small land grant would Casserly and his political associates give to Oregon. Other Democratic Senators, as Davis of Kentucky and Vickers of Maryland, supported Thurman and Casserly in their attacks on the bill, and Hamlin, Harlan, Buckingham and other Republicans supported Williams and Stewart in advocacy of it. The speeches of the Republican Senators were characterized by liberal ideas and by a perception of the great future of our country, while those of Democratic Senators showed a narrow, selfish, sectional feeling which it seems impossible for that party to get rid of. We give a few paragraphs from speeches made on the Republican side, and compared them to the Albany paper and to Democrats generally as good reading Mr Stewart said:

I understood the Senator from Ohio to oppose the system established by the Government of granting aid to construct railroads, and I understand that to be the opinion of the Senator from California. I undertake to say that that is unsound, is unstatesmanlike, it is a step backward. I do not desire to accuse those gentlemen of being obstructionists, but I can speak of that argument as behind the age. It is a plea for desolation; it is a plea for the abandonment of the great West; it is a plea for leaving that country to savages; it is a plea against the manufactures of the East; it is a plea against the labor of the East; it is a plea against the progress of civilization. We will civilize that country, we will develop its resources, we will make highways over it forever. I do not intend to indulge in any philippic or to question any person's motives; but I say the position that this is a bad policy is unsound, and has been condemned for twenty years by the repeated votes of both Houses of Congress upon mature discussion.

I expect to see this hemisphere bound together by railroads. I expect to see in my time a railroad stretching from this continent to the South American continent. I expect a greater development from railroads than has ever been dreamed of heretofore, and until those who desire to go forward and occupy the deserts, until those who think to go forward and occupy these public lands complain of this system of giving them the means of getting there and protecting them when they are there, the opposition comes with ill grace from States that have not given the matter any investigation or have had their full quantum It has been the policy of the Government for twenty years, and every Congress for the last twenty years has had it under consideration, and it has been discussed from time to time, and often assailed, but its intrinsic merit in distributing the public lands and developing the resources of the country has so commended it to the American people that it has been sustained Think you, if this had been an odious policy, think you, if this had been operating to produce great monopolies in the West, that representatives from that section would have come here steadily for twenty years and always advocated it? It has been searched before. Think you it would have stood this long through all parties?

The great heart of the United States says Let us have railroads, let us have farms where the people can get them If nature has not given us rivers and rivers to transport our produce, we will make artificial means of conveyance, we will overcome all obstacles." Modern science, modern energy, under the lead of the free institutions of the United States, will do something with that desert between here and California which is so much depreciated. It has unbounded wealth in it. Its mineral resources surpass comprehension There is no time for faint-heartedness We will show that portion of the land teem with wealth and make it a blessing to mankind. This is our destiny. Why talk about monopolies? This system is the salvation of the country. I have great faith in its workings in the United States, but there is no time to go into it in detail now

Observe also the liberal and statesmanlike views of Senator Hamlin

Mr. President, I think one of the great problems of the age is cheap and rapid transportation There has been nothing, there is nothing which will so well develop the resources of the country as that which will cheapen the transportation of the producer to the distant market The interior of our country without auxiliary aid would be worthless for agricultural purposes Under the old modes of transportation centuries would roll away before they could be populated No one thing has served so faithfully and so efficiently to secure that needed transportation as the system of railroads All that has been said by the Senator who has just taken his seat is eminently just and true and I think the Senator who rises here to this place for the purpose of placing obstructions in the progress of improvement and development of the interior of our country mistakes the condition and the spirit of the times The whole system of land grants and aids by the Government for the construction of railroads as a means to develop the country and to foster transportation has been very familiar to myself I believe I was here at the inauguration and have remained here most of the time since I confess very frankly that in the early period I had some doubts about it, but those doubts have long since left me But if at that period of time I had doubted even to the point of objection it would seem to me that a system so well established and applied to so many localities not only furnishes a justification, but makes a demand upon us that we shall apply it in equity to other localities

Standing here I believe to-day the most austere representative of the Union I thought it not inappropriate for me to say a kind word to the Senator who comes from the most westerly State Now sir, with a territory sparsely populated with agricultural resources that need to be developed increasing the wealth of the country by their development which would attract him to other States I will not have said this myself but I cannot remain silent when I hear such sentiments made to this body

This by Mr Hamlin was well put Democratic Senators would have Congress stop these grants but Mr Hamlin very properly suggested that before they were stopped entirely Oregon should have something We appreciate this liberality and will claim a share

I think it must be conceded that those grants have been of great benefit to them I hail with pleasure the dawning and development that is to follow, and I shall be prosecuted for my consideration and my vote It is too late in the day to undertake to interpose obstructions and I think the very significant gunboat displayed during the late fourth of July may admonish us that we had better get out of the way after the bell rings We cannot retrograde back to that system which was next to fifty years ago It is retrograding in improvement it is retrograding in progress I shall refer briefly to the Senator before me [Mr Williams] with the greatest pleasure I have given the reasons why I will give him my cheerful support

After a long debate the bill was read a third time and the yeas and nays were ordered upon it We beg to call the attention of the Albany Democrat particularly to this record which it will find in the Globe of February 20 fifth page and fifth column

Yeas—Messrs Brownlow Buckingham Chandler Edmunds Gilbert Hamlin Harlan Howard Howe Hurwell Kellogg McDonald Nye Osborn Patterson Pomeroy Pool, Ramsey Rice Ross Sawyer, Schurz Scott, Sherman Spencer Stewart Sumner Thayer Tipton Warner Wiley Williams Wilson and Yates—34

Nays—Messrs Casserly Davis McCreery, Saulsbury Stockton Thurman and Vickers 7

Absent—Messrs Abbott Anthony Bayard Boreman Cameron Carpenter Cattell Chandler Conkling Corbett Cragin Drake Fenton Ferry Fowler, Hamilton, Harris Johnston, Lewis Morrill of Maine, Morrill of Vermont, Morton, Norton, Pratt, Robertson, Sprague and Trumbull —27

Thus we see that all the Republicans present, thirty-four in number voted for the bill and all the Democrats present seven in number, voted against it Is the Albany paper now convinced that its party in the Senate was a unit against the Oregon grant? We have not space to give the reasons (if they may be called reasons) which Democratic Senators urged against this beneficial policy There was nothing tangible or practical in their so-called arguments, and their opposition to the policy of granting lands for internal improvements clearly grew out of narrow, illiberal views, a want of perception as to the future development of the country and a veneration for the obsolete traditions of the Democratic party.

We trust this subject is now made plain to the people of Oregon Do they want the policy to be adopted toward our State that other young States of the Union which the Democratic party in Congress contends for; or would they prefer that the liberal policy of the Republican party, in aiding and developing the newer portions of our country, should continue and prevail? If they send a Democrat to the Senate he will be powerless to contend against the policy of his party, even if he should be inclined to do so, and he could get nothing for our State except by fighting his own party, (which he would never have courage to do) and by relying on the generosity of Republicans. If Smith's bill, which the Democratic press of Oregon has made so much of, ever goes to the Senate, every Democrat in that body will do his best to kill it

The Colonization Business

The editor of the Oregon City Enterprise is in a fearful state of excitement concerning "colonization" We trust that we shall be able to soothe his perturbed spirit a trifle, by the relation of an "owertrue tale," which, in short, is a sequel to a fiction of the Enterprise's own

First, the Enterprise's fiction That paper says

We have also been informed by a reliable gentleman, that about 12 o'clock on last Sunday night, twenty men left Portland, Oregon, for the ostensible purpose of working on the McMinnville ditch. Where these men came from is not known, but it is thought that they came from Washington Territory, or from the country east of the mountains, where Republicanism has no show of success, and no doubt these men have emigrated to Yamhill county, upon money furnished by Senator Williams Their manner of maneuvering in the night time stamps them as Republicans

Now for the sequel That twenty or more men left Portland, last Sunday night, the 6th inst, for the "ostensible purpose" of working on the McMinnville ditch, is true as gospel The fiction of the Enterprise lies in the remainder of his paragraph which we have quoted It is well known where those men came from, and it is not, and has not been thought that they came from Washington Territory or elsewhere than Portland The Enterprise editor knows where they came from, who hired them and for what purpose they were taken to Yamhill, or else he is not trusted with secrets by his party members, and is not up to the commonest kind of snuff Those "twenty" men (there were twenty one of them when they left Portland) were hired in this city by one W. L Gaston, a rabid Democrat, assisted by several Democrats of Portland. Gaston came here at the instance of certain Yamhill Democrats to get men to be exported to Yamhill county, for the purpose of voting there the Democratic ticket He picked up twenty one men by representing himself as a brother of Mr Hart, the superintendent of the canal, and contracted with them that when they arrived at McMinnville they should go to work upon the canal Two of these men were left behind at Oregon City and did not arrive at the canal till the day after the others When the first squad got there they found out the deceit that had been practiced upon them Mr Hart had all the men he wanted and as he had had no hand in hiring or inducing these men to go to Yamhill he refused to give them employment Gaston and his confederates had not of course expected that Mr Hart would employ them but their main purpose was gained when they got them into the county as it was believed that the most of them could be kept in the county till after election by quartering them among the Democrats Several of the men however got disgusted with the whole arrangement and have returned to Portland

THE TEXAS MINES—CELEBRATION OF ST PATRICK'S DAY

From the Walla Walla Union of March 5

The following report is started up the other day by the miners in order to find out what had become of the party there engaged in mining Three men M Sherer (Texas) Curtis Campbell and Albert Trobel had remained there all winter The party that went to visit them consisted of John Trobel George Trobel and Benj C Carr an old Australian miner They have returned and bring in the report that the winter has been severe and the prospects for water in the mines are very low John Trobel exhibited sixty two dollars worth of gold he obtained from the miners It was of course consisting of nuggets of a bit a value to that of two and a half dollars We should judge it worth seventeen dollars an ounce They obtained them in various crevices among the rocks Mr Trobel seemed very elated and says the gold mines of Clarke county are an established fact The visitors will soon return again to the mines

The Vancouver Hibernian Benevolent Society proposes to celebrate the coming festival of Ireland's Apostle, Thursday March 17th 1870

In a few days the Democrats failed to come to time with the money for the mercenary Hill militia now carrying muskets through the streets Most of the men came back sober and took quietly his reproof the charge made by the Democrats that they were turned off in a state of intoxication Some of them who did not join the Democratic expedition to Yamhill had indulged rather freely at the wages which they received at the hands of the Some of these same men who were kept a few days at Oregon City were taken to Yamhill by Gaston

Editorial Notes

Now that the Fifteenth Amendment has been ratified and its enforcement has become a matter of certainty, we shall see whether those Democratic papers which have been claiming that it would give the suffrage to Chinese will adhere to this assertion still We presume that they will change their opinion now

The Democracy are getting into a pretty fix on their much vaunted greenback question With greenbacks in the neighborhood of ninety cents, and a prospect of their soon going to par with gold it does not appear that there is much capital left in the famous doctrine of paying the national debt on the Pendleton principle

A telegram states that the President has signed the proclamation for the promulgation of the Fifteenth Amendment Thus the Republican party goes forward in the steady accomplishment of its objects It has failed in nothing that it has ever undertaken, and to it the country owes its unity, its steady progress and the peace it enjoys

During the first eleven months of Grant's administration expenses were $55,139 381 40 less than in the proceeding eleven months under Johnson, which, (with increased receipts, which resulted from the change) showed a difference in Grant's favor of $81 844 808 45 Because of this large increase in receipts and reduction of expenses, Congress would be able to largely reduce taxes

Senator Morton made a speech at the recent Republican State Convention of Indiana in which he showed that the financial administration of the Republican party, both State and National, was producing the happiest results Under Republican management the debt of Indiana has been reduced from $13,600,000 to $7,700,000 while the national finances better results have been obtained than the most sanguine had hoped for

The Herald wishes to know if we are in favor of making up to the soldiers who enlisted prior to the passage of the legal tender act, which coin was the only currency known, the amount they lost by the depreciation of greenbacks with which they were afterward paid? An adjustment of this kind we think would be equitable, and it would seem to be in accord with the spirit of the late decision of the Supreme Court Therefore we favor it, decidedly But we can tell the Herald that the soldiers, if they expect to get this money will have to rely for it on the Republican party, which has always stood by them, voting them supplies, bounties and pensions amounting to hundreds of millions, while the Democratic party has either given them a grudged support or denied them assistance altogether

CITY.

HEAVY STORM.—Our citizens generally were surprised on Saturday morning to find the ground in this latitude covered with snow. But the white garb did not remain long after sunrise. At 10 o'clock A. M. however the storm king again renewed his reign over us and for several hours without scarcely any intermission the storm of hail, rain and snow was severe. After evening the storm increased and during Saturday night the ground was covered with snow which drifted in places to a quantity which entitled it to a measurement—and in such cases we hear of various depths to which snow had attained ranging from nothing to the maximum of three inches. Spread over an even surface perhaps the depth would have reached three-fourths of an inch. The wind was biting and of some consequence for the most part of the day. This storm was probably one of the longest spurs from that great storm raging about the Eastern terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad, at Duluth and St. Paul, but it had so far spent its fury in reaching us that it quite readily softened under the mellow influences of an Oregon March wind which does not long stand back for such innovations upon its usually steady manners.

COMPLIMENT TO ONE OF OUR CITIZENS.—The Albany Fire Company No. 1 pays the following handsome tribute to Mr. Thomas G. Young which we find in the Democrat of the 11th:

WHEREAS, Hon. Thomas G. Young foreman of Columbian Engine Company No. 3 of Portland having a proper and commendable appreciation of the courtesies and amenities which should ever exist among Firemen, has seen fit to present a handsome token of his esteem to our retiring Foreman, Mr. J. B. Comley, Therefore

Resolved, That Albany Fire Company No. 1 through the Committee appointed for that purpose do hereby tender their grateful acknowledgments to Mr. Thomas G. Young for his magnificent present so handsomely bestowed on one of its respected officers and members and as we believe that this testimonial of his regard for the Albany Fire has won for him the freshest and green est places in their memories, and that so long as the organization continues his name shall be among the brightest and most treasured of its members.

FIRE ALARM.—Two alarms of fire were sounded on Saturday evening, calling the Department out in full force, but no damage was done in either case.

The U. S. Circuit Court for Oregon, Judge M. P. Deady, will convene at the rooms of the U. S. Courts, in Slaik's building, to morrow morning at 10 o'clock. One of the U. S. District Court will be held today.

Mrs. Rose Martin gave a free lecture at Harmony Hall last evening.

A word Entire to procure tickets to attend the Fireman's Benefit at the Theater this evening, can be had by applying to any member of the Fire Department appointed by the Fire Department for the purpose, or at the box office at the Theater to day between 10 A. M. and 1 P. M.

Miss Taylor, one of the lady teachers in the North Portland School, Miss Taylor, was taken suddenly very ill a few days since, and is now, it is said, in a very critical condition from hemorrhage of the lungs.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—The Democratic party of Multnomah county met in convention, the delegates, in this city on Saturday. Eleven Precincts was represented by [illegible] delegates, and for those precincts not represented [illegible] were authorized by the Convention to act. The Convention then proceeded to elect [illegible] delegates to the Democratic State Convention, to meet at Albany on the 23d inst. The following delegates were so chosen: Joseph [illegible] W. W. Thayer, J. L. Scoggin, J. [illegible] E. Hamilton, Al. Zieber, T. A. Davis, [illegible] Dale, H. L. Herman, Hilton Bonser, [illegible] Harris, James Wilson, John Holton, J. [illegible] W. Beck, E. H. Dolan. After the [illegible] were chosen as above represented, [illegible] was offered and adopted instructing [illegible] to vote for Col. W. W. Chapman [illegible] Convention for the office of Governor, [illegible] the Convention adjourned sine die.

THE JOHN BULL.—The John Bull, who has become [illegible] to the annoyance of our city Police [illegible] for the past hundred days or more, was up [illegible] on Saturday for some petty crimes, [illegible] petty perpetrated upon the community, [illegible] a clear case of guilt was established, [illegible] hesitating in disposing of the matter, [illegible] the laws were intended to punish [illegible] in the present instance, the prisoner [illegible] already received sentence for about ninety [illegible] of one hundred, he would punish the [illegible] with advantage from custody. In the [illegible] of the U. S. Judge Anderson used [illegible] severe language towards the prisoner [illegible] his understanding how utterly detestable [illegible] in the sight of decent people.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—One of the individuals arrested before Justice Anderson, on Saturday, a [illegible] by the name of Casey—grumbled about the decision and did His Honor that he "warn't goin' to sub [illegible] he was goin' to have justice if it cost [illegible] dollars," etc. Judge Anderson ordered him to subside—which he condescended to [illegible] after parley, and he was soon [illegible] to jail by Policeman Donnovan, where [illegible] will be done him for two days at least [illegible] than he would do for himself, per [illegible] left at large.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—Lot 8 in block 30, was sold on Saturday afternoon at the Court House, by [illegible] of the County Court, in the matter of the [illegible] of William Ebinger, deceased. It was bought in by Jacob Sittsel, Esq., guardian, for $1,115. The land is in Couch's Addition to the City of Portland. On the same day Sheriff Allen sold lot 5, block 168 for $1,475 and lot 6, same block for $365. This property was sold on [illegible] of the Circuit Court, judgment being in favor of Robert R. Bybee, for the sum of $1,550 and costs. The sale was for $790 in excess of the [illegible].

LOCAL TOPICS.—Topics most current on the streets, in offices, at home, everywhere, on Saturday were brief—usually about like this: Cold day; winter; heavy snow; winter's come, got any wood? no; wet; let's seek a stove, where's my overalls? this is a regular down eastern March. Enough showing plainly that Oregonians would be obliged to stand a large amount of such fun to get used to it. An Illinois gentleman, to whom we were introduced during the day, remarked that where he came from, such weather in the latter portion of the year would be considered par for.

DARKNESS.—We learned yesterday that people have not yet quit drowning horses at the foot of Stark street in this city as at about the hour of three o'clock an employe of Kollar's Meat Market drove his horse into the Wallamet at that point and by some circumstance the animal was drowned. It was a narrow escape for the driver but he got out all right. The horse and cart were fished up, but of course the horse was dead. By those who report the scene and death struggles of the horse as very painful incidents to witness.

THE JOHN MCNEAR.—The side wheel steamer John McNear left yesterday for Cementville, W. T., whence she is to be used by the Columbia River Manufacturing Company in whatever transactions they may require of her. She took from this city [illegible] her yesterday, a quantity of hay etc. for the company. We were misinformed as regards the person in command of her. Captain Richmond Hobson, one of the pioneer pilots of Oregon waters, has taken command of her.

DANGEROUS ASSAULT.—On Saturday night a man, whose name we could not learn was assaulted on Third street and dangerously injured. Various causes and conjectures were assigned for the assault during yesterday but the matter is yet mysterious both to the police and the public. We have formed an idea in reference to the circumstances from all the speculations we have heard but it is not important at this time.

ANOTHER MONSTER HEAD.—We were informed yesterday by Mr McPherson of the Bluie that a Mr. Thompson of Yamhill county had recently killed a monster cougar which measured in length 11 feet, and weighed 160 lbs. The claws of this Oregon sample from the wild recesses of the Lava Cities and Territories will be taken to the Atlantic States by a gentleman who is soon to depart for that section.

SUNDAY IN PORT.—There were but few steamers, and only one sea going craft, along the wharves of this city yesterday. Those river crafts which always lay here on Sundays—the Cascade and the Alert, of the Wallamet route, were at their berths.

THE RAIN FALL.—The streets of the city were nearly all flooded yesterday the rain fall of the day night, and yet we are informed that there was but one tenth of an inch fell for twenty four hours up to 4 o'clock P. M. Saturday. People are often disposed to believe that the rain fall of Oregon is terrific—but the figures do look small when pulled into the actual count.

LATE LOCAL.—We have just placed under the [illegible] at Goodnough's Book Store the finest new dealer of Oregon for a package of sample papers. To late date for us on the shelves of the Franklin Book Store 11 Front street Portland.

EMMET GUARD.—There will be a meeting of the Emmet Guard at the Armory this evening to make arrangements for the celebration on the 17th inst. St. Patrick's Day.

PERSONAL.—W. A. McPherson the able and indefatigable editor of the Bee arrived in this city from McMinnville on Saturday evening.

NOT ARRIVED.—Up to the hour of going to press nothing had been heard of the steamers Ajax or Gulf.

INDUSTRIAL AND FINANCIAL ITEMS.

In the United States there are 992 protective unions, with an aggregate membership of 113 735 the Knights of St. Crispin being the strongest numbering some 50 000.

The extraordinary rapidity with which the late Russian loan was taken up in Europe—some $300, 000 000 being offered in excess of the amount required—testifies less probably to ultra confidence in Russian institutions than to the prosperousness of the banking amongst the investing class in the principal countries.

It is a noteworthy fact that both Republicans and Democrats have united in forming the Protective Tariff Association of Missouri. Its meetings in St. Louis are largely attended. The speakers take the position that Missouri must be developed as Pennsylvania and New England have been and that there is no other way for the farmer of the west to become opulent but by the creation of a home market through the protection and encouragement of home manufactures.

Gen. Grant in his message said frankly that if at any future time he should think proper to review his recommendations and should come to conclusions different from those then announced, he would not hesitate to say so. Acting on this principle, he has reconsidered his suggestion adverse to a reduction of taxation for one year, and now expresses the opinion that a reduction of twenty millions ought to be made. He thinks the country expects this much and that it can safely be done.

The poor people of Massachusetts have an idea about being prepared for a rainy day, as appears from their savings bank deposits. The amount now exceeds $114 000 000 and this sum with the surplus earnings of the savings banks is double the appraised value of all the railways in the State and exceeding by $35 000,000 the capital of all the banks. There are nearly one hundred and thirty thousand depositors in Boston alone, representing $33 102 564. Each depositor, if the amount were to be equally divided would have $256 and if it were to be equally divided among the entire population of the State each man, woman and child would have at least $80.

The tariff reformers say that we must stop manufacturing at home, and commence buying abroad if we would get cheap iron. Let us see. In 1847 48, at the close of a protective period, the product was 800 000 tons, which fell, under a lower tariff, 564 000 tons in 1850, and only reached 754,000 tons in 1854. In 1850, railroad bars were sold at $40 a ton by foreigners, to close up our mills and in 1858 and 1854 eleven hundred thousand tons of pig iron was imported and sold at $35 to $37 per ton, and this high price could be had because home competition was broken down by a low tariff. Experience has shown that as soon as the foreigners get us in their power they will put up the price of everything.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

Eugenie will visit Sweden and Norway the coming spring.

"Reddy, the Blacksmith," is getting better and will soon be as bad as ever.

Horatio Seymour and John T. Hoffman are at swords' points in New York politics, each being jealous of the Presidential aspirations of the other.

The Trustees of the Common Schools of the city of New York have applied to the Board of Education for permission to employ instructors in the Irish language and literature in their schools.

Gen. Philip Sheridan is again, for the 999th time, reported engaged. This time his fiancee is reported a Southern widow of great beauty and still greater wealth, and kind Mrs. Grundy has fixed the month of June for the wedding.

They have taste in Washington. A correspondent there informs the public that "the Shoo Fly retort is universally regarded as the neatest thing done in Congress since some of Thad. Stevens' sharp rejoinders."

Cornelius Vanderbilt holds seven millions of the bonds of the Harlem railroad. His receipts from the milk trade on this road pay the interest every year on these bonds. The gross receipts from each milk train per day is $3,000, the tariff being five cents per gallon.

The Saratoga (N. Y.) Sentinel, the leading Democratic organ in the Fifteenth District of that State, says: "If the Democratic party of New York as conducted at the present time, is not on the broad road to a political hell, we are no prophet—that's all."

The Fifteenth Amendment has saved the Illinois Constitutional Convention a deal of wrangling over the qualifications of electors. It was proposed to submit to the people two clauses, one allowing and the other forbidding the negro to vote, but it is thought that the Democrats will acquiesce in universal suffrage and retire from the field. What else can they do?

The New York Citizen gives a list of the divisions of the Tammany party in New York city, as they stand at present. On the one side are the well known names of Peter B. Sweeny, Wm. M. Tweed, Richard B. Connolly, and A. Oakey Hall. On the other are George B. Perser, John H. McCunn, George C. Barnard, Michael Norton, Henry C. Genet, John Morrissey, Thomas J. Creamer, John F. and James O'Brien. Of these it says Mr. Purser would like the place of Sweeny, O'Brien desires the place of Tweed, Norton would wish that of Connolly and Creamer seeks to supplant Hall.

Texas Cattle.

THE FARMERS OF EASTERN OREGON REMONSTRATE AGAINST THEIR INTRODUCTION.

CANYON CITY, OREGON, March 5th 1870.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The Farmers Aid Association of this valley held a meeting this P. M. at which the following resolutions were adopted which the association desires to have published in your paper:

1. Resolved, That as a community we are decidedly opposed to the introduction of Texan or other diseased cattle into this section of the country.

2. Resolved, That we respectfully ask those dealing in cattle or who contemplate engaging in the business, not to drive such cattle into, or through our community and warn them that in so doing they will be met by every lawful restraint we may be able to oppose.

3. Resolved, That we invite the stock raisers of this State to unite with us in resisting the introduction of Texan or other diseased cattle within the bounds of the State until such time as the Legislature shall meet.

4. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the OREGONIAN for publication.

Notwithstanding an overabundance of vegetation it was thought Grover & Baker Easter Stitch Sewing Machine Wm. Cheshire & Co. Agents.

RAILROAD MATTERS are very likely to be lively this spring. The East Side Company will engage a large force of men to complete their road to Albany and the West Side Company will very probably build a portion of their road in order to obtain a land grant to facilitate the building of their line to McMinnville. Kohn & Flobel are keeping up with railroad times. Their stock of spring goods coming across the continent by rail will be the largest and finest stock of Clothing ever imported to this State. Their stock in store now is offered very low to make room for large arrivals. They are manufacturing the no-toed Boys Boots and always have on hand a large stock of the same which are offered at lowest figures.

The Infirmities of Age

Decrepitude is the natural accompaniment of old age, but it may be ameliorated and the period of entire helplessness long postponed by the judicious use of a healthful stimulant. Physicians, fully aware of this fact usually recommend moderate stimulation when the strength and vigor of maturity have been suspended by the feebleness and prostration which are the inevitable results of declining years. Port wine, gin, brandy and other liquors are often prescribed by medical men for aged persons, but the impulse which fermented and distilled liquors give to the circulation and the energy they seem to impart is transitory, unless the alcoholic principle is modified and qualified by the presence of the medicinal tonics and invigorants. Of all the combinations of effective stimuli with the juices of herbs, roots and barks that have ever been administered to the aged and infirm with the view of sustaining their waning strength, cheering their drooping spirits and relieving the aches and pains to which they are subjected none has been found so efficacious, so agreeable and so permanent in its effects as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The difference between the effect of the Bitters and that of a mere excitant however pure, is the same as between the effect of a sudden and momentary application of excessive force to a given purpose, and the result of a steady continuous application of exactly the requisite amount of force to the same end. The mere spirit of physical energy produced by a dram (and which is always succeeded by corresponding depression) never yet benefitted any man or woman suffering from physical decay. A portion like Hostetter's Bitters at once soothing and invigorating is the remedial agent required.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commends them and to the markets of the Interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of the mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior preparations for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Real Estate and Rents.

CONDITION OF THE REAL ESTATE MARKET IN NEW YORK. DECLINE IN RENTS. THE PROSPECT IN CINCINNATI THE COMING SPRING.

[From the N. Y. World, Feb 20

The season for renting dwelling and other houses is now at its height, and every householder is eagerly anticipating a prospective decline in rents. During the last ten years the latter have steadily advanced until they are now just double what they were in the beginning of the war. A single example will illustrate the rate of increase. A moderate sized brown-stone dwelling suitable for accomodating a family of ten persons, was leased in 1863 at $750, which was then considered a high rent. In 1865 the rent was then advanced to $900, in 1867 to $1,000, and in 1868 to $1,300, while the rent during the past year has been $1,500. Other houses have been rated in the same proportion. In consequence, the pressure of these large annual sums has been severely felt, and they have been the most onerous burden which householders have had to bear. Numbers of people have not been able to sustain such expenses, and have been forced either to board or take in boarders, and the number of boardinghouses and hotels in the city has, in consequence, increased enormously of late years.

It is naturl, under these circumstances, that the subject of rents should inspire great interest. As was stated in a former article, it is probable that a decline will take place in them, though there has been little diminution in the value of real estate property generally. As one prominent house agent expressed it, "You may quote the lot market firm, rents declining, and improved property steady."

Real estate has not been so dull in many years as at present, but it is not generally believed that the limit in value has been reached. With the large demand for property for business purposes, and the constant increase of buyers, such as persons from the country who come to the city to settle here permanently; speculators who have made "lucky hits;" and persons who have saved money in other ways, and want to invest it securely—all these will be requiring houses and lots, and hence the price of real estate will not be allowed to go down.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial, Feb. 20.]

Rents unquestionably have a downward tendency. They have been declining for three years now, until the reduction on the prices charged for some houses during the war is equal to fifty per cent. The efforts of owners to keep up the old order of things are futile. The inevitable that is felt in business circles, the scarcity of work, and the reduction of salaries has forced many to curtail their expenses, to give up their large houses and seek smaller ones better suited to their means. Houses that very readily rented for $3,000 to $4,000 three years ago, and for $2,000 and 2,500 last year, can hardly be rented for 1,500. Houses that brought $800 and $1,000 in 1867, can now be had for forty or fifty per cent. below these figures, by a little pressing. There is a great demand for small houses, and these command the same prices charged for them last year.

Store rents have also suffered a great reduction. All over the Bottom, stores that rented for $5,000 and $6,000 during the war, now bring only $1,800 and $3,000 a year. Firstclass stores front wholesale stores on Pearl street, between Vine and Race; on Columbia, between Vine and Walnut; and on Race, between Third and Fourth, which brought their owners rentals of $6,500 a year three years ago, now rent for $2,900.

Many of the fine dry goods houses on Pearl street, between Vine and Race, and Vine and Walnut, are lying idle.

It is but a week since a gentleman, who runs a banking business on Third street, applied to a prominent real estate agent to find out what the owner of an empty store that pleased him would agree to rent it per annum.

"Six thousand dollars a year, sir," said the agent, in reply to the question.

"Oh! pshaw!" said the gentleman; "it's not worth that. I'll give him $3,000 for the store."

"It's not worth talking about the matter, then, replied the agent; "he wouldn't look at $3,000."

But the gentleman went to see the owner, nevertheless, and before he left him he got the key to the store for $3,000 a year, and is doing business there now.

On Fourth and Fifth streets, and the streets running down to the river, rents are somewhat firmer, but a reduction of twenty-five per cent. may be said to have been made on the rents of last year, and it is extremely probable that they will fall still lower.

Clackamas County.

Proceedings of County Court of Clackamas county, Oregon, at March Term, 1870:

Road District, No. 44, M. C. Bolen came in and made report, which was approved, and L. R. Taylor appointed Supervisor for the year ending Feb. 1871.

A. Warner, Supervisor of Road District No. 14, petitioned the court to be relieved and have some other person appointed. J. B. Ralston was appointed Supervisor for the year ending Feb. 1871.

Wm. Blunt, Supervisor of Road District No. 30, reported, which report was approved, and F. C. Mack appointed for the year ending Feb. 1871.

S. Fieldhammer petitioned for a ferry license across a ferry across Clackamas river, near Jos. Young's, which was granted.

A portion of Road District No. 18 was attached to District No. 19.

In the matter of the road commencing at the end of Eli Creswell's lane, crossing Clackamas river at Horace Baker's, thence on to or near Milwaukie, W. R. McCubbin, Andrew Sprowls and William Tucker submitted an amended report; report matured, and viewers appointed to assess damages, to-wit: Joseph Parrot, Sr., L. D. C. Lancaster and D. D. Tompkins; parties claiming damages are, W. D. King, A. P. Smith, and George Wise; final order to be made next term.

E. Skinain, appointed Surpervisor of Road District 49 in place of John Groshong removed.

The Clerk is ordered to advertise for bids with plan and specifications for building a bridge across Clear creek, near Abel Matoon's, to be opened at next term of court, and if contracted, to be paid out of the assessment of 1870.

M. C. Athey, granted peddler's license at $50 per year.

Clerk ordered to purchase books for records of deeds and proceedings of Circuit Courts.

J. W. White, Supervisor of Road District No. 33, made report for 1869, which report was approved.

Rates of ferriage established for L. Fieldhammer's ferry: one wagon and span of horses, 25 cents, and each additional span 12½ cents; the above rates apply to yoked cattle; one horse and rider, 25 cents; one footman or more, each, 12½ cents; for cattle, each, 5 cents; sheep or hogs, each, 1 cent.

J. M. Moore was granted a ferry license to run a ferry across the Willamet river between Oregon City and what was known as Linn City. Jas. B. Price and Eloise Harvey contested said Moore's right for said ferry, and the costs of said contest was adjudged against the contestants amounting to $15 15. The following rates of ferriage were established for said ferry, to-wit: One span of horses or yoke of cattle and wagon, 50 cents; each additional span of horses or yoke of cattle, 25 cents; single horse and buggy same as one span of horses, 50 cents; man and horse, 25 cents; footman, each, 10 cents; loose cattle or horses, each, 10 cents; sheep or hogs, each, 5 cents.

The Court ordered that there would be no more bailiffs employed for the County Court except in case of emergency.

The order heretofore made in the matter of deeding town lots to the executors of Daniel Harvey, deceased, was modified and they allowed to withdraw application, and the clerk was ordered to make out a deed and tender the same to said executors.

A petition was presented praying that a part of Pleasant Hill precinct be set off into Tualatin. Not granted.

John Zumwalt was appointed supervisor of Road District No. 29.

The following bills were audited and ordered paid, to-wit:

Wm. Blunt for services as road supervisor, $8; J. H. Whitmore, for board of A. Lambert, $12; J. Selling for one pair of pants for A. Lambert, $3; J. W. White for services as road supervisor, $16; Oregon City Enterprise Association for publishing precinct boundaries, $61 25; Oregonian for the same service, $61 25; Oregon City Enterprise for printing extra copies of precinct boundaries, to be used as posters, $3. John Myers jailor fees, State vs J. Doland, $28, for collection of taxes $45 25, for attending on the County Court at the February term, 1870, $15, for attendance on same Court, March term, 1870, $15, for serving forty-nine Supervisor notices and mileage, $54 50; T. J. McCarver as deputy Sheriff or bailiff at the February term of the County Court $9, same for service at the March term of said court, $9. H. C. Myers, for clothing and books for F. C. Collins, a destitute minor, $7. Oregon City Enterprise for publishing notice to tax payers, $14. J. M. Drake, County Commissioner's mileage and per diem, $15 40. Wm. McCown, County Commissioner's mileage and per diem, $12 20; J. M. Fenter, County Clerk, as per bill, $161 00.

The changes in the road leading from Canemah to Parrot's bridge. There was an order entered at last term accepting the same, and that the costs of said changes be assessed to Capt A. F. Hedges, but omitted to be published until the present time, in order that the Court might read the order before the same was published, which was done at this term and pronounced by the Court correct.

Concerning the mining prospects in the interior, the Walla Walla Statesman of the 5th, says: "We are told that there is more snow in the Blue mountains now than has been known at any time within the last three years. The same reports of heavy snows reach us from all quarters of the country, giving assurance that the miners will have an abundance of water for mining purposes."

The Salem Statesman of to-day says: The Pioneer Oil Company is shipping a quantity of oil cake for Liverpool. They propose to send about 50 tons on a venture, and if it pays, to follow that by a shipment of a couple of hundred tons. The company say they can ship from San Francisco to Liverpool at their own prices for freight. There are great numbers of vessels there that will take freight at nominal figures rather than lose time there waiting, or go in ballast.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamers California, from Victoria, and Ajax, from San Francisco, are both due, but have not been telegraphed at the hour of going to press.

HOAGLAND'S

NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,

Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It secures without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.
